Head Coach: Mike Carey Associate Head Coach: Chester Nichols Assistant Coaches: Sharrona Reaves, Lester Rowe

2014-15 SEASON NOTABLES

- West Virginia reached the Postseason WNIT Championship for the second time. The Mountaineers fell to Missouri State in the 2005 title game.
- WVU set a school records in rebounds (1,621) and blocks (242) in its deepest postseason run since 2005.
- Under Mike Carey's tutelage, the Mountaineers have reached postseason play in 11 of his 14 seasons and nine consecutive years. Carey's squads have boasted 20 or more wins nine times.
- WVU reeled off seven consecutive victories from Nov. 26 to Dec. 20. The Mountaineers then would pick up five straight wins in the Postseason WNIT (March 24-April 1).
- The Mountaineers extended their home court winning streak to 16 games this season before it was snapped with a loss to nationally-ranked Baylor on Jan. 10.
- WVU collected three wins over Top 25 programs in 2014-15: No. 21/20 Oklahoma State (Jan. 17), No. 24 Oklahoma (Feb. 24) and No. 24 Texas (March 1).
- Lanay Montgomery recorded 24 rebounds versus Temple for the fourth-most in a single game in program history.
- Montgomery netted eight blocks against the Owls, becoming the first WVU player to ever post at least 24 rebounds and eight blocks in a game.

WNIT TIDBITS

- West Virginia made its ninth consecutive postseason appearance and the 14th overall in program history.
- The Mountaineers appeared in the Postseason Women's National Invitation

Tournament (WNIT) for the fourth time and the first since the 2009 season.

- WVU went 1-1 in 2009 falling to St. Bonaventure in the second round.
- In 2005, WVU won four consecutive games to reach the WNIT Championship game, eventually falling 78-70 at Southwest Missouri State.
- WVU reached the WNIT title game for the second time, but fell short in a 62-60 loss to UCLA.
- There were 8,658 fans in attendance at the Charleston Civic Center for the WNIT Championship Game.

HOME COURT ADVANTAGE

- West Virginia has won 18 consecutive games inside the Coliseum against non-conference opponents.
- WVU set a school record for most home wins in a single-season at 19. WVU went a perfect 17-0 during the 2009-10 season.
- West Virginia is 90-7 at home against non-conference opponents since 2002.
- West Virginia holds an 9-1 record at home in the Postseason WNIT.

HOLMES WITH MORE HONORS

- Junior guard Bria Holmes grabbed Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) All-Region 5 and All-America Honorable Mention.
- The accolade is the first for Holmes. She joins Asya Bussie (2014), Olayinka Sanni (2008) and Meg Bulger (2005) as All-America Honorable Mention selections.
- In May 2015, Holmes was one of 51 athletes to participate in the 2015 USA Basketball Pan American and World University Games Team Trials in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

SPORTSMANSHIP

- Coach Mike Carey asked his players to intentionally foul Villanova senior Emily Leer so that she had an opportunity to reach her 1,000th point before her career concluded. Leer was fouled and hit the front-end of a free throw to score her 1,000th and final career point.

ANOTHER 20-WIN SEASON

- West Virginia reached its ninth 20-win season under coach Mike Carey and the 13th overall in program history.
- WVU clinched back-to-back 20-win seasons for the first time since the 2010-11/2011-12 campaigns.

ALL-BIG 12 HONORS

- Junior Bria Holmes garnered unanimous Phillips 66 All-Big 12 First Team honors for the second consecutive year.
- She is only the third WVU player to grab consecutive First Team All-Conference honors, joining Liz Repella (2010-11) and Rosemary Kosiorek (1990-92).
- Senior Averee Fields was named All-Big 12 Honorable Mention for the first time in her career. Fields was second on the team in scoring (13.8 ppg).

HOLMES FINISHES FANATASTIC YEAR

- Bria Holmes' 18.8 points per game were second in the Big 12.
- She has scored double-figures in 40 of her last 41 games.
- Her 1,412 career points are 16th at WVU. She is 16 points shy of passing Yolanda Paige for 16th.
- Holmes was named to the Preseason WNIT All-Tournament team, averaging 27.5 points in three games.
- With her 30 points against TCU on Feb. 4, Holmes has reached the 30-point plateau four times in her career.
- Holmes is tied for fourth with four 30-point career games. Her three 30-point games this season are also tied for fourth on WVU's single-season ledger.
- She notched her second career 30-point game with 36 vs. Seton Hall. She recorded the first 35-point game by a WVU player since Meg Bulger in 2005.
- Holmes is tied for seventh all-time at WVU, notching 24 20-point games.
- Holmes added her third 30-point game by tallying 32 in the 83-39 win over Evansville.
- With her layup at the 14:50 minute mark in the second half at No. 3 Texas (Jan. 7), Holmes became the 31st West Virginia player to register 1,000-points in a career. Her 716 points this season is second all-time at WVU and a record by a Mountaineer junior.
- Holmes is only the fourth player to have 500+ points in two different seasons at WVU.
- Holmes' 18.8 scoring average sits eighth all-time in a single season.

CREDENTIALS

Photographers and media members who wish to cover a game at the WVU Coliseum should contact women's basketball contact/associate director of athletic communications Russell Luna at least 24 hours in advance. Credential pickup is located at the Red Gate and opens one hour prior to each game.

GAMEDAY

Parking is free and open to the public in the Coliseum parking lot. Parking passes will be provided for only games that coincide with WVU men's basketball games.

The working press area is located on the east side of the main floor at concourse level (22 rows from the playing floor). Press should enter through the Blue Gate with their credentials. Forty-eight seats are available for working media; four television slings are also available. West Virginia grants broadcast rights to the official radio outlet of the visiting team on reciprocal basis.

Accredited photographers may work along the playing floor at both baselines behind the restriction line established by the NCAA. Cutline writers or equipment carriers are not permitted on the playing floor.

The WVU Coliseum also supports wireless internet access. Please see women's basketball contact Russell Luna for login and password information.

Complete statistics are provided to all working media at halftime and postgame. Requested team members and coach Carey will be available for interviews following a 15-minute grace period.

DURING THE WEEK

Any member of the media wishing to interview a player or member of the coaching staff during the week should contact West Virginia women's basketball contact/associate director of athletic communications Russell Luna at least 24 hours in advance.

Cell phone numbers will not be made available and all WVU student-athletes have been instructed to not conduct interviews without prior approval of the sports communications staff.

BIG 12 MEDIA SERVICES

The Big 12 Conference maintains its website at Big12Sports.com. Complete information on the league and member schools is available. The site boasts original content from throughout the Conference along with several video broadcasts, including a weekly magazine show - The Big 12 Report.

In women's basketball, scores throughout the league and standings are updated as games are final. Statistics are updated no later than the following morning. Media can access PDF files of the conference release, statistics and women's basketball record book.

FIELDS JOINS 1,000-POINT CLUB

- With her 12 points against Buffalo on March 19, Averee Fields became the 32nd Mountaineer to eclipse 1,000 points.
- Fields joins teammate Bria Holmes, who reached 1,000 points earlier this season.
- Asya Bussie, Christal Caldwell, and Taylor Palmer all reached 1,000 points last year.
- 14 of the 32 1,000-point club members have played under coach Mike Carey.

WEST VIRGINIA WINS WHEN...

- West Virginia was 19-2 this season when leading at halftime. The only blemishes were losses at Kansas and Kansas State.
- WVU was 7-1 when having four players reach double figures. The only loss came to Baylor on Jan. 10.
- West Virginia was 16-3 this season when holding opponents to less than 60 points.
- WVU was 12-0 when scoring 70+ points.
- West Virginia was 17-2 when committing fewer fouls than its opponents.
- When WVU blocked eight or more shots in a game, the Mountaineers are 11-3.
- West Virginia fought back from double-digit deficits in two games this season: 17 vs. Iowa State and 14 vs. Texas.

RECORD SETTERS

- Senior Linda Stepney dished out 457 career assists, which is sixth all-time.
- Stepney's career assist/turnover ratio of 2.1 stands at third all-time in WVU history.
- Bria Holmes' 144 made three-pointers are ninth all-time.
- Averee Fields' 650 career rebounds are 11th all-time at WVU.
- Fields' 264 career offensive rebounds ranks fifth all-time at WVU, while Crystal Leary's 232 sits ninth.
- Lanay Montgomery's 134 blocks in her career are fifth all-time. She is three shy of fourth.

UNIQUE DOUBLE-DIGIT SCORING DUO

- Bria Holmes and Averee Fields are the only duo in WVU history to have each reached double-figures in 30+ games in a single-season.
- Holmes' 37 double-figure scoring games is a school record, while Fields' 33 was second.

MOUNTAINEER SPORTS NETWORK

RADIO COVERAGE

The Mountaineer Sports Network from IMG will air every women's basketball game on radio stations throughout West Virginia and on WVUsports.com with announcer Jeff Culhane on the call.

JEFF CULHANE, PLAY-BY-PLAY

Culhane joins the Mountaineer family for his second season, following a six-year stint with the Nebraska Husker Sports Network. In his first season as the women's basketball play-by-play voice, Culhane is also responsible for the Mountaineer football pre and postgame shows and play-by-play for WVU baseball.

A native of Mitchell, South Dakota, Culhane is a graduate of Dakota Wesleyan University, where he played football and baseball as a two-time NAIA All-America Scholar Athlete.

MEG BULGER, ANALYST

Former WVU great Meg Bulger enters her second year as color commentator for the Mountaineer Sports Network from IMG. She donned the Old Gold and Blue during the 2004-06 and 2008 seasons. Bulger ranks fifth all-time on WVU's all-time scoring list with 1,665 points.

After the conclusion of her WVU career, Bulger was drafted by the WNBA's Sacramento Monarchs. As a color analyst, Bulger has worked stints with ESPNU and ROOT SPORTS.

A native of Pittsburgh, Bulger married former professional baseball player Jim Gallagher. The couple have a daughter Nola. The family resides in Durham, North Carolina.

CAREY NEARING ALL-TIME WINS

- Coach Mike Carey is nearing closer to the school's all-time wins record, which is held by WVU legendary coach Kittie Blakemore.
- Carey (297) is just three victories away from claiming his 300th victory at WVU. He is four wins shy of tying Blakemore for the school record in career triumphs.

FINDING THE BOARDS

- WVU's 28 offensive rebounds vs. TCU (Feb. 4) were the most since inking 30 in 2011.
- Center Lanay Montgomery's 24 rebounds against Temple on Wednesday were tied for the fourth most in a single game in program history.
- Her nine o-boards vs. Baylor in January were the most since Korinne Campbell had nine in 2010.
- Montgomery's 7.7 rebounds and Averee Fields' 6.8 rebounds are fifth and seventh, respectively in the Big 12.
- Montgomery and Fields reached double-figure rebounds in 11 and seven games, respectively.
- WVU's 583 offensive rebounds are second behind 644 set in 1977-78.

BLOCKING HISTORY

- West Virginia's 242 blocks are the most in school history. With the five deflections against Oklahoma (March 7), the team surpassed a 31-year old record of 207 blocks held by the 1984 team.
- Lanay Montgomery leads the way with 124 blocks this season, her mark is third in a single-season. Georgeann Wells ('86) holds the other three records.
- Montgomery's 3.26 bpg was 10th nationally and leads the Big 12.
- WVU was sixth nationally with 6.4 bpg.
- WVU has blocked eight or more shots in 12 games this season, including back-to-back-to-back 8+ blocks against Texas Tech, Oklahoma State and Kansas State.
- The 15 team blocks vs. K-State are tied for second most nationally this season.
- Montgomery's five blocks in three consecutive games (Dec. 3-10) is the first for a Mountaineer since Wells achieved that feat in 1986.
- Her nine blocks vs. K-State were the most since Wells did that in 1985 vs. Marshall.
- Montgomery became the only player in program history to record at least 24 rebounds and eight blocks in a single game when she did so against Temple Wednesday.

Recap

Junior Bria Holmes' game-leading 23 points carried the No. 17-ranked West Virginia women's basketball team past Eastern Kentucky, 67-42, on Saturday evening in the opening round of the Preseason WNIT at the WVU Coliseum.

West Virginia (1-0) used a 12-point run to close out the first half and took a commanding 30-19 halftime lead. WVU added four more points to the run in the second half before EKKU came firing back.

The Colonels (0-1) cut the deficit to 11 midway through the second half, but were unable to overcome the stingy play from WVU. West Virginia is now 13-1 in season openers under head coach Mike Carey.

Holmes tied a career-high with nine field goal makes. Her 24 attempts tied five others for 10th most field goals shot by a Mountaineer junior. The Big 12 Preseason Player of the Year notched three steals, two assists and a block in 37 minutes of play.

Veteran leaders Linda Stepney and Avere'e Fields each reached double-digits with 13 and 12 points, respectively. The duo combined for 10-of-14 from the field. Stepney handed out three assists and committed just one turnover in 36 minutes.

Crystal Leary, a native of Norfolk, Virginia, grabbed 11 rebounds and swatted away a career-high four blocks in the win. Freshman Teana Muldrov tallied eight points and pulled in five boards during the win.

EKU's Michaela Hunter, Mariah Messengill and Shameeka Murray each had a team-leading eight points for the Colonels. Hunter corralled seven rebounds, including six off the defensive glass.

The Mountaineers made 24-of-56 from the field for 42.9 percent, holding EKU to 14-of-51 for 27.5 percent. WVU hit six treys compared to the Colonels' five. The Mountaineers held a slight rebounding edge 44-38, scoring 26 points in the paint. The Colonels won the points off turnover battle, 17-12.

Early in the contest, Eastern Kentucky capitalized on WVU's shooting woes as the Colonels took a 6-2 edge through the first five minutes. Holmes hit back-to-back triples cutting the Mountaineers deficit to 9-8 with 14-plus minutes remaining.

WVU found its first lead with a Holmes layup to take a 13-12 edge. EKKU quickly responded with its second triple to regain the edge. Both teams swapped leads until Stepney hit a game-tying free throw at 19-19. The Mountaineers closed out the first half on a 12-0 run in the final five minutes to take a commanding 30-19 halftime advantage.

Holmes led all scorers at the half with 17 points, while Leary pulled in seven rebounds. EKKU's Murray led the Colonels with six first-half points. WVU shot 35.5 percent (11-of-31) from the field, while EKKU was limited to 7-of-28 for 25 percent.

The Mountaineers' momentum continued into the second half as WVU stretched its lead to 15. Eastern Kentucky snapped its seven-minute drought with a trey from Alexus Cooper.

WVU shot over 50 percent for the majority of the second half to take a commanding lead over the Colonels and collect their first victory of the season.

Recap

The No. 17 West Virginia women's basketball team outlasted Seton Hall in an offensive showcase, 89-87, on Monday evening at the WVU Coliseum to advance to the Preseason WNIT semifinals.

The Mountaineers (2-0) trailed by four with nine minutes remaining. Avere'e Fields' layup at 7:09 gave WVU a brief 72-70 lead that it would never relinquish down the stretch.

WVU stretched its advantage to nine under four minutes to play, but Seton Hall (1-1) continued to battle back. A pair of free throws from Pirates star Ka-Deirdre Simmons cut WVU's edge to one in the final 13 seconds. Redshirt freshman Teana Muldrov hit a free throw to give WVU an 89-87 lead with six seconds. A last layup attempt from Simmons fell short, as West Virginia secured the win.

Holmes, the Big 12 Preseason Player of the Year, put together one of the most memorable performances in WVU Coliseum history with a career-best 36 points in the win. The New Haven, Connecticut native's performance tied Kate Bulger (2003) for the second-most points in a single game at the Coliseum. Her effort also tied Bulger for third-most by a WVU junior.

Fields earned her first career double-double scoring performance with 21 points, 15 rebounds and dishing out five assists. Muldrov finished out double-figure scoring for WVU with 19 points and nine boards. The freshman's six triples tied three others for third most by a Mountaineer freshman with the most recent effort from Taylor Palmer in 2010 versus High Point.

Seton Hall had four players reach double-figures as Tabatha Richardson-Smith paced the Pirates with 32 points. Simmons finished as the second leading scorer with 20.

West Virginia connected on 27-of-64 from the field for 42.2 percent, while Seton Hall hit 29-of-67 for 43.3 percent. Both teams knocked down a combined 23 triples. Seton Hall hit 12-of-25 (48.0%) compared to WVU's 11-of-24 (45.8%). The Mountaineers won the rebound edge 45-43 and slightly captured the assists battle 20-18.

Seton Hall opened the game to a 4-0 lead. West Virginia used a seven-point run midway through the period to take a 24-18 lead at 10:15. Later in the half, Seton Hall's Simmons knocked down a wide-open trey to tie the contest 29-29.

WVU stretched its lead back to four before the Pirates' Richardson-Smith connected on a triple and layup, tying the game 38-38 with 3:25 on the clock. The Mountaineers once again went up by four. However, Daisha Simmons hit a layup to cut WVU's lead to 46-45 at the break.

The junior Holmes led all scorers with 16 points. Fields already had a double-double in the first half with 11 points and 11 boards. Richardson-Smith and Johnson each had double-figures with 12 and 10 points, respectively.

In the opening half, the Mountaineers went 14-of-36 from the field for 38.9 percent, including 6-of-14 from 3-point range. Seton Hall made 14-of-30 attempts for 46.7 percent, connecting on 5-of-12 from the perimeter. WVU won the rebound column, 29-13.

Recap

The No. 22/21-ranked West Virginia University women's basketball team rolled to an 83-39 victory over Evansville at the WVU Coliseum on Wednesday evening.

The Mountaineers (3-1) used a string of runs, including an eight point game-opening barrage, to take a commanding 41-22 halftime lead. Evansville (1-3) cut the deficit to single digits late in the first stanza, but were unable to accommodate for WVU's physical pressure. The Mountaineers picked up 62 rebounds and outscored the Aces 48-14 inside.

For the second time this season, Bria Holmes eclipsed the 30-point mark with a game-high 32 points and a career-best 12 made field goals. The junior led in six rebounds and tied Linda Stepney for the team lead with five assists.

Wednesday evening marked a career-setting night for Crystal Leary, who tallied new personal bests with 14 points and four blocks. Avere Fields reached double-digits for the fourth straight game by adding 12 to the score column.

West Virginia's 62 rebounds were the most for a Mountaineer squad since corraling 62 against Temple on Feb. 12, 1994. WVU shot a season-high 46.4 percent (32-of-69) from the field, while limiting the Purple Aces to just 12-of-58 for 20.7 percent. Defensively, the Mountaineers blocked 10 shots and notched 17 points off turnovers in the triumph.

Sarah Dickey, who was selected to the Preseason All-Missouri Valley team, notched a team-best 16 points for Evansville.

The Mountaineers used three separate eight point runs to take a commanding 41-22 lead at the break. WVU opened the first half on an 8-0 run. Fields later added back-to-back buckets to put the WVU up comfortably, 14-3. Dickey knocked down a free throw to cut WVU's lead to nine with 9:19 remaining.

A free throw by Lanay Montgomery and a Holmes layup extended the Mountaineers advantage back to 12. Evansville made surge with six minutes remaining off six straight points from Dickey cutting the lead to seven. In the final five minutes, WVU scored 13-of-14 points to end the period.

West Virginia shot 15-of-34 for 44.1 percent from the field in the first half, holding the Aces to 6-of-27 for 22.2 percent. Holmes led WVU with 16 points and five rebounds, while Dickey had 10 for Evansville.

The second half started off red hot for the Mountaineers as they conducted a 12-6 run to take a commanding 53-28 lead and never looked back in the contest. Freshman Teana Muldrow reeled nine points and nine rebounds, while Bre McDonald completed her first night in Mountaineer uniform with nine points and six boards.

Recap

A strong first half performance propelled the No. 22/21-ranked West Virginia University women's basketball team to a 67-53 victory over Fairfield on Saturday afternoon at the WVU Coliseum.

The staunch Mountaineer defense held the Stags to just 11 first half points. West Virginia (4-1) stretched its advantage to 26 in the second half before Fairfield (1-5) closed the game on a 25-to-13 run. Saturday's victory extended West Virginia's home court winning streak to 12, which is now the fourth longest in program history.

Three Mountaineers reached double figures with senior Avere Fields tallying a game-high 18 points. The forward notched a career-high nine field goals, grabbed five rebounds and dished out four assists in 34 minutes.

Bria Holmes, the Big 12 Preseason Player of the Year, added 15 points and a team-best seven rebounds in the win. Freshman Teana Muldrow knocked down three triples for 10 points and pulled in four boards for her second double-digit game this year.

For the contest, the Mountaineers shot 40.9 percent (27-of-66) from the field. WVU was 6-of-15 (40.0%) from 3-point range. Fairfield went 20-of-51 for 39.2 percent, recording seven triples. West Virginia outmanned the Stags 42-31 in the rebounds column and controlled the offensive glass 23-15.

West Virginia's stingy defensive play in the first half disrupted the Stags early on. Three consecutive jumpers by Fields propelled the Mountaineers to a 12-2 lead with 14:40 left in the opening frame.

The perimeter started heating up for West Virginia, as the team knocked down four of its first five from three-point range. Offensively, WVU cooled off to end the half, but closed the first period with a 32-11 edge. The Mountaineers went 12-of-26 for 46.2 percent from the field, holding Fairfield to 4-of-24 for 16.7 percent. Fairfield committed 16 turnovers resulting in 19 WVU points.

Holmes led all halftime scorers with 10 points, while McDonald had a game-best six boards. Kristin Schatzlein led the Stags with six points.

Fairfield started off the second half on a better foot. Despite a stronger start, free throws from forward Crystal Leary at 8:41 would give WVU a 26-point advantage with 8:41 remaining. Leary would finish with seven points and tied for a team-best seven boards.

Fairfield began its late push thanks to the veteran Schatzlein's driving to the lane bucket, making it a 54-32 contest. She would finish the game with a team-best 17 points.

The Stags continued their hot offensive work, knocking down 9-of-10 field goals to cut WVU's edge to 17. Fairfield scored five out of the last seven points to finish the contest 67-53.

Bre McDonald in her second game as a Mountaineer added eight points, six rebounds, four steals and two assists in just 18 minutes of play. Meanwhile, senior Linda Stepney matched a career-high with 10 assists.

Recap

Four Mountaineers reached double figures, as the No. 24/21-ranked West Virginia women's basketball team cruised to an 83-43 victory over Coppin State on Saturday afternoon inside the WVU Coliseum.

West Virginia (6-1) used a series of runs to take commanding lead and clinch its second 40-point win of the season. Saturday's win gave the Mountaineers their 13th straight win inside the Coliseum, which remains the fourth longest in program history.

Junior Bria Holmes led all scorers with 20 points, pulling in seven rebounds, collecting five steals and handing out four assists.

Forwards Averee Fields and Lanay Montgomery both recorded double-doubles, becoming the first duo since Christal Caldwell and Ayana Dunning to achieve that feat in 2011. Fields poured in 15 points and 10 rebounds for her second double-double of the year. Montgomery netted her first career double-double with 12 rebounds and 10 points, while tying a career-best with five blocks.

Freshman Teana Muldrow rounded out the WVU double-digit scorers with 10 points. Making her 100th career start on Saturday, senior Linda Stepney scored eight points, dished out seven assists and grabbed six rebounds in the win.

For the second straight game, WVU shot 50 percent or higher from the field, going an even 32-of-64 (50%). Coppin State (1-6) was held to 26.2 percent shooting (16-of-61), while committing 19 turnovers that resulted in 22 Mountaineer points. The inside game was dominated by West Virginia outrebounding CSU, 58-to-38. WVU notched a season-high 54 points in the paint.

The Mountaineers pounced on the Eagles early with an 18-6 run in the first nine minutes of action. West Virginia's tough defense kept the Eagles struggling offense, as Coppin State went 2-of-11 during one stretch.

WVU held a 41-16 lead at the break - their largest halftime lead of the year. Fields and Holmes both eclipsed double figures in the first half scoring 12 and 10, respectively. CSU was led by Bria Harris with six points. In the first half, West Virginia shot 41 percent (16-of-39) from the field, while limiting Coppin State to 25 percent (7-of-28).

The second half again started strong for West Virginia the Mountaineers opened on a 12-5 run to take a 53-21 lead. At one point, WVU went 9-of-9 from the field to take command of the game.

Later in the contest, Montgomery reeled in her 10th rebound to record her first career double-double. West Virginia had a 21-3 run for an eight minute stretch as the team cruised to a fourth consecutive win. Coppin State's Harris Tanayasa Henderson (13) and Harris (10) finished as the team's scoring leaders.

Recap

Strong-willed efforts from Bria Holmes and Averee Fields propelled the No. 23/20-ranked West Virginia University women's basketball team to a 79-60 win over Duquesne on Wednesday evening at the WVU Coliseum.

The first half remained close with WVU (7-1) taking a 40-32 halftime lead over the Dukes (5-4). West Virginia used a 10-0 run midway through the second half to secure its 14th consecutive win inside the Coliseum. That home win streak is tied for the fifth longest in the country. WVU is also in the midst of a five-game winning streak.

Holmes poured in 27 points, setting a career-best with 13 made field goals. She added five steals, four assists and a block in 38 minutes. The New Haven, Connecticut native has now scored 25 or more points in four contests.

Fields reached the 20-point plateau with 20 points, five rebounds, two assists and two steals.

West Virginia keyed in defensively in the second half, allowing one Duquesne three-pointer. April Robinson, who knocked down four triples in the opening half, was limited to no points primarily thanks to the play of guard Linda Stepney. The Norfolk, Virginia native concluded the night with eight points, six rebounds and five assists. Robinson finished with a team-high 14 points for the Dukes.

Overall, West Virginia shot 46.9 percent (30-of-64) from the field on the evening with 16 points from the charity stripe. Duquesne was limited to 16-of-50 (32 percent), making five triples. Defensively, WVU reeled in 12 steals and blocked nine shots in the victory.

WVU opened the contest with an 8-2 lead, four of those points coming from the hands of Holmes. Duquesne then battled back with a 9-2 run taking an 11-10 lead at the 12:25 mark.

The Mountaineers closed out the first half reaching 40 points for the second straight game and taking a 40-32 lead at the break. Holmes led all scorers with 19 points, while Montgomery followed with eight points.

WVU shot a season-best 52.9 percent (18-of-34) from the field in the first half. Duquesne was limited to 10-of-27 overall (37 percent), while knocking down four treys. West Virginia forced 12 Dukes turnovers that resulted in 16 points in the opening stanza.

Duquesne started the second half on a four-point run. A layup from Deva'Nyar Workman cut Duquesne's deficit to 46-40 with 15:38 remaining in the second half.

Just near the 12-minute mark, Bre McDonald hit her first triple as a Mountaineer to extend West Virginia's edge to 54-45. WVU used a 10-0 run to take its largest lead of the game, 61-45, at 9:33.

From that point forward, the Mountaineers never looked back, taking a 21-point lead down the stretch. The victory was the 37th for West Virginia over Duquesne.

Recap

The No. 22/18-ranked West Virginia University women's basketball team withstood a three-point barrage from Marshall in the second half to take a 69-56 win in the annual Chesapeake Energy Capital Classic on Saturday afternoon at the Charleston Civic Center.

WVU (9-1) held a 34-18 lead into the locker room. The Thundering Herd (6-3) came rolling back and used back-to-back triples to cut the Mountaineer lead down to seven with 10 minutes to play. West Virginia went on a 10-0 run to collect their 10th consecutive win in the Capital Classic and extend their current win streak to seven games.

Sophomore Lanay Montgomery recorded career-highs in points (15), rebounds (14), blocked shots (6) and steals (3) in the win. Her six blocks were tied for fifth-most in a single-game by a Mountaineer sophomore. The double-double was the second for Montgomery this year.

Bria Holmes etched a game-best 16 points with 12 of those coming in the second stanza. A pair of WVU freshmen had standout performances as Tyara Warren notched her first double-figure game with 10 points. Teana Muldrow grabbed a career-high 14 rebounds.

WVU finished shooting 43.5 percent (27-of-62) from the field, limiting Marshall to 22-of-69 for 31 percent. The Mountaineers grabbed 56 rebounds, outmatching the Herd by 20 in the boards column.

To open the contest, Montgomery scored five points and pulled in five rebounds as the Mountaineers held a 12-8 lead. Field and Holmes found foul trouble with two each. Despite the limited playing time from the starters and a seven-minute field goal drought, WVU closed out the half on an 11-0 run to take a 34-18 halftime lead.

Marshall was held to 17.9 percent shooting (7-of-39) from the field, while West Virginia shot at a 46.4 percent (13-of-28) clip. Montgomery had nine points and nine rebounds, while Muldrow recorded a career-high 12 rebounds in the opening frame. The Herd's Leah Scott had eight points.

In the second half, Marshall battled with a pair of triples from McKenzie Akers to put the Herd within 11 with 11:28 remaining. The Herd hit 5-of-6 to cut West Virginia's lead to 51-41 with 10 minutes to play.

The three-point game went into full effect for Marshall as Akers again found the twine, narrowing WVU's lead to single-digits. However, Holmes answered with back-to-back treys to put the Mountaineers up 59-44. Holmes' play helped catapult a 10-0 run that saw West Virginia clinch its 10th consecutive Capital Classic trophy. Scott and Norrishia Victrum each finished with a team-high 15 points for Marshall.

Recap

The No. 21/18-ranked West Virginia University women's basketball team couldn't overcome the hot perimeter play of Ohio State, as the Mountaineers fell 96-54 on Monday afternoon at the Value City Arena.

West Virginia (9-2) opened Monday's contest to a six-point lead. However, the Buckeyes (8-4) roared back to take a commanding 43-29 halftime edge. In the second half, WVU cut the deficit to eight early on, but Ohio State knocked down six second half triples to finish the day with 13 and snap WVU's seven-game win streak.

Junior Bria Holmes reached double-figures for the 15th consecutive game, recording a team-high 17 points and grabbing five rebounds. Avereve Fields notched her third double-double this season, scoring 12 points and pulling in 10 boards.

Linda Stepney reached a career milestone with her two assists, tying Cathy Parson for 15th all-time at WVU with 347. Stepney also reached WVU's top-10 list with her 104th career start.

WVU shot just 31.3 percent (21-of-67) from the floor, as OSU finished 36-of-72 for 50 percent. West Virginia out-rebounded the Buckeyes 48-46. Ohio State tallied 28 points off 26 Mountaineer turnovers.

The first half saw West Virginia open to a 7-1. However, Ohio State fought back with a jump shot from Ameryst Alston and a tip-in from Alexa Hart to tie the game 7-7.

Ohio State used back-to-back triples from Alston to extend their edge and eventually take a 22-12 lead with 12:27 to play. Kelsey Mitchell hit consecutive treys to give OSU a 35-19 edge.

WVU was held to just four points in a four minute stretch as Ohio State pushed its ledge to 20. The Mountaineers clawed back to cut their halftime deficit to 14 points, 43-29. Offensively, WVU was limited to 35.3 percent (12-of-34) shooting. Ohio State knocked down seven triples and shot 40 percent (16-of-40) from the field. The Mountaineers committed 16 turnovers, while OSU converted those into 12 points. Field and Holmes each had nine points to lead WVU at the break.

The second half started off strong for West Virginia. A pair of Holmes free throw narrowed the Bucks' lead to 10. However, Ohio State's Mitchell added a seven point stretch to put OSU up 15.

Ohio State kept rolling from there, shooting at a 62.5 percent clip and finished the game shooting 50 percent (36-of-72). OSU's 13 triples were the fourth most by a WVU opponent. Kelsey Mitchell hit an opponent record eight treys and tallied 39 points. Alston finished the contest with 26 points and Hart with 11.

Recap

The No. 21-ranked West Virginia University women's basketball team battled back from a first half double-digit deficit, but were unable to sustain momentum in a 71-60 loss at Oklahoma on Sunday afternoon at the Lloyd Noble Center.

The Mountaineers (10-3, 0-1 Big 12) trailed by as many as 11 in the opening stanza, before cutting OU's lead to 34-32 at the break. West Virginia regained a lead early in the second half, but Oklahoma (7-5, 1-0 Big 12) used a nine-point run down in the final 10 minutes to secure the Big 12 opening victory.

Bria Holmes, the Big 12 Preseason Player of the Year, netted a team-high 23 points. Holmes knocked down 10 shots, pulled in seven rebounds and blocked three shots in the win. Senior Averee Fields reached double figures for the 13th straight game, adding 16 points. Freshman Tyara Warren tied a career-high with 10 points and snatched a personal-record of four steals.

Overall, WVU's offense was limited to 37.1 percent (23-of-62) shooting from the field. Oklahoma hit at a 45.6 percent (26-of-57) clip, including six made triples. The Sooners won the rebound column, 44-to-38. The Mountaineer defense swiped 13 steals and forced 21 OU turnovers, but were unable to get into an offensive rhythm.

WVU opened the game to a four-point lead. However, Oklahoma hit three triples in the first eight-plus minutes of action to move up 15-11 at 11:43.

OU held steady with its advantage, scoring 10 points off WVU turnovers in the first 17 minutes. The Sooners held a 21-23 edge with 3:56 remaining in the frame.

Triples from Holmes and Warren coupled with a final second layup from Crystal Leary propelled a six-point WVU run to cut the deficit to 34-32 at the break. The Mountaineers upped their shooting percentage to 36.7 percent (11-of-30), while OU made 13-of-31 for 41.9 percent. Fields led WVU with 10 points, while OU's Gioya Carter had 16.

In the second half, West Virginia used another six-point spurt from Fields, Holmes and Warren to take a brief lead. WVU held a lead until Oklahoma capitalized on some quick WVU fouls, taking a 52-48 edge.

Holmes used a driving layup and drew a foul to put the score, 57-55, with less than seven minutes left. Oklahoma added used a 7-0 run started by a bucket from Kaylon Williams to regain a sizeable advantage with just under five minutes remaining.

West Virginia cut the lead to 67-60 with 1:19 remaining, but buckets from Carter and Williams sealed the OU win. Oklahoma's Carter finished with a career-high 24.

Recap

A valiant effort by the No. 25-ranked West Virginia University women's basketball team to upend unbeaten No. 3 Texas fell short in a 61-55 loss at the Erwin Center.

The Mountaineers (10-4, 0-2 Big 12) trailed by 14 points with seven minutes remaining in the half and fought back to make it just six at the half. With 7:09 remaining in the game, junior guard Bria Holmes hit a jumper to make it a four-point contest. However, back-to-back layups stretched the Longhorn advantage (13-0, 2-0 Big 12) back to eight - a lead that they would never relinquish.

With her bucket at the 14:50 mark in the second half, Holmes became the 31st WVU player to reach 1,000 career points. Holmes finished with a game-high 23 points.

Averee Fields found her 14th consecutive game in double figures, notching 12 points and shooting 60 percent (6-of-10) from the field. Freshman Teana Muldrow tallied 10 points to round out double-figure scorers.

WVU finished the game shooting 34.5 percent (20-of-58) from the field, as Texas finished at 46.2 percent (24-of-52). The Mountaineers cut a sizeable UT rebound advantage to 39-33 in the final box. WVU had 13 turnovers, forcing 17 Longhorn miscues. Nneka Enemkpal inked a double-double with 11 points and 12 rebounds for Texas.

Holmes' layup and two made free throws cut WVU's deficit to 5-4 midway through the first half. Texas capitalized on a four-minute Mountaineer scoring drought and used a 10-0 run to take a sizeable lead. Bre McDonald hit a deep jumper to snap the skid at 11:26.

A mid-range jumper by Holmes cut Texas' edge to seven. But the Longhorns used another seven-point run to take a 24-10 lead, their largest in the game, under eight minutes.

West Virginia used its own seven-point run to narrow UT's lead to single figures. However, Crystal Leary's free throws closed out the first half with a 32-26 Texas lead. She finished the game with six points, five rebounds and two steals.

West Virginia shot 33.3 percent (8-of-24) from the field in the first half compared to Texas' 44.8 percent (13-of-29). UT dominated the rebound column, 23-to-9, in the opening frame. Holmes led all scorers at the break with eight points, while Jones and Davenport paced UT with six each.

Despite Texas going on an early run, the Mountaineers maintained to keep the game close. At 14:50, Holmes used a layup off the glass to record her 1,000th career-point and become the 31st Mountaineer to reach that milestone.

Holmes found a triple as time expired to put the Mountaineers within five with nine minutes remaining. With under eight minutes remaining, WVU found a layup from Holmes to cut the game to four points.

However, back-to-back buckets stretched Texas' lead back to eight and kept the Longhorns ahead for good. WVU did cut the game to five with 3:35 remaining, but UT used three foul shots and a layup to seal the win.

Recap

The No. 25-ranked West Virginia University women's basketball team led for nearly eight minutes in the second half over No. 5-ranked Baylor, but fell short in a 66-62 contest at the WVU Coliseum on Saturday afternoon.

West Virginia (10-5, 0-3 Big 12) climbed out of an 11-point first half deficit, as the Lady Bears (14-1, 3-0 Big 12) took a 36-32 lead at the break. In the second half, both teams battled back-and-forth swapping the lead four times until Averee Fields banked a jumper at 12:12. WVU would stretch its edge to four points with under eight minutes to go.

However, Baylor's Imani Wright connected on a trey at 5:24 to tie the game. From there, the Bears pushed their lead to six with under two minutes remaining. A Bria Holmes jumper with just 50 seconds remaining, cut the game to 64-62. But BU star Nina Davis pulled in an offensive rebound that led to two Baylor free throws from Kristy Wallace, thus ending the threat. Saturday's loss snapped a 16-game home court winning streak, which was the third longest at WVU.

Laney Montgomery had a stellar performance, notching her third double-double of the year with 12 points and 17 rebounds. Montgomery's 17 boards, were the fifth-most in a single game by a WVU sophomore.

Holmes paced the Mountaineers with 17 points. Guard Linda Stepney added 10 points and dished out six assists in the victory. Averee Fields rounded out the WVU double-figure scorers with 14 points, six rebounds and four assists.

Overall, WVU was held to just 24-of-68 from the field for 35.3 percent shooting. Baylor knocked down 42.4 percent (25-of-59).

A Stepney triple briefly put the Mountaineers ahead 3-2 in the first half. Then the Lady Bears sprinted out on a seven-point run to take a six-point edge.

Khadijah Cave's layup pushed at 13:04 the Lady Bears lead to 11, their largest of the first stanza. West Virginia didn't give up, clawing back with a six-point run of their own. Stepney found her second triple, while Crystal Leary added a bucket, to make it a 26-23 contest. During that stretch, Baylor was held scoreless from the field.

Baylor took a 30-26 lead into the locker room. BU shot 43.3 percent (13-of-30) from the field, while WVU was limited to 29 percent (9-of-31).

Stepney's layup under 19 minutes helped the Mountaineers pull within two, 30-28, to start the second half. Montgomery scored in the paint, tying the game 34-34 at 16:25. With under 15 minutes remaining, a transition layup from Holmes propelled the Mountaineers their first lead 38-36 at 14:40.

The two squads traded leads until a triple by Fields at the 12:12 mark. WVU held steady for the next seven-plus minutes, but a Wright triple would shift the momentum to BU. A pair Cave free throws stretched Baylor's lead to six under two minutes remaining. Cave finished with a game-high 20 points for Baylor. Holmes' jumper with 50 seconds cut the lead to two, but Baylor pulled in an offensive rebound and connected on two free throws to seal the win.

Recap

A tough offensive night hampered the West Virginia University women's basketball team in a 55-45 loss to Texas Tech on Wednesday evening at the WVU Coliseum.

West Virginia (10-6, 0-4 Big 12) opened up the contest to a 15-6 lead before Texas Tech (12-4, 2-2 Big 12) capitalized on 19 consecutive missed shots from the Mountaineers to take a 22-21 lead at the break. The Lady Raiders opened the second half on a 14-point run and never allowed WVU to cut the deficit to single digits en route to their second Big 12 win.

Junior guard Bria Holmes paced the Mountaineers with 16 points and two steals. Averee Fields etched her 16th consecutive game in double figures getting 7-of-16 from the field for 14 points. For the second straight game, Lanay Montgomery grabbed double-digit rebounds with 14.

Offensively, WVU finished the game making just 21-of-68 field goal attempts for 30.9 percent and only 1-of-16 (6.3 percent) from three-point range. Texas Tech connected 37.7 percent (20-of-53), including four triples. The Mountaineers won the rebound battle, 46-to-40, and blocked eight shots. WVU had a tough night at the free throw line, making just 2-of-11 attempts.

West Virginia kept an early 4-2 edge through the first five minutes of play. Back-to-back buckets from Jessica Morton and Holmes gave WVU a seven-point lead with 13 minutes remaining. WVU would stretch its lead to 15-6 at the 12:11 mark.

However, the Mountaineers fell into a seven minute plus scoring drought as Texas Tech fought back. The Lady Raiders cut the deficit to one after a three-pointer from Amber Battle at the 6:17 mark.

The Mountaineers missed 19 consecutive field goals in the opening half before a jumper from Fields snapped the streak at the 3:16 mark. The Lady Raiders took a 22-21 lead at the break. Texas Tech shot 9-of-28 for 32.1 percent from the field, while WVU was limited to 9-of-32 for 28.1 percent. Fields led all scorers with 10 points, while Battle had eight for the Lady Raiders.

A 14-point second half start for the Lady Raiders helped TTU take a commanding 36-21 lead with 15:45 left in the contest. A layup by Holmes cut the deficit to 11 with nine minutes remaining, but WVU was unable to cut the gap to single digits.

Battle led Texas Tech with 20 points in the victory, as the Lady Raiders found their first road victory since defeating Kansas on Feb. 24, 2013.

Recap

For the first time this season coach Mike Carey used a different lineup and it worked, as West Virginia topped No. 21/20 Oklahoma State 61-49 on Saturday afternoon at the Gallagher-Iba Arena.

WVU (11-6, 1-4 Big 12) came out strong in the new lineup as Bre McDonald made her first career start. The Mountaineers held a 27-23 halftime lead, their first in five games. In the second half, West Virginia used a 21-4 run late in the final stretch to capture their first Big 12 win.

Oklahoma State (12-4, 2-3 Big 12) was held to 28.8 percent shooting (19-of-66) for the game, as the Cowgirls went cold on the second half. The Mountaineers picked up their first win over a Top-25 program this year.

McDonald finished with a career-high 16 points, knocking down three of WVU's eight triples.

Senior guard Linda Stepney hit 9-of-10 free throws, most of those in the second half, finishing the game with 15 points and five assists. Bria Holmes inked a career-first with a double-double, corralling a personal-best 10 rebounds and scoring 10 points. Holmes has scored double figures in 20 consecutive games. In just her second game as a Mountaineer, Jessica Morton tallied seven points.

WVU made 18-of-54 from the field for 33.3 percent. The Mountaineers were dominant on the boards, out-manning OSU 52-36 in the rebound column. WVU blocked eight shots, six of those coming from Lanay Montgomery.

Baskets from Montgomery and McDonald gave WVU a 4-0 lead in the opening two minutes. Oklahoma State took a brief 7-6 lead, but Morton followed up with a triple at 13:07 to give WVU a two-point edge.

Consecutive triples by McDonald propelled WVU's lead to 17-13. For the first time in five games, WVU held on to a halftime lead as the Mountaineers took a 27-23 advantage in the locker room.

In the first half, McDonald led all scorers with eight points as WVU shot 34.5 percent (10-of-29) from the field. Two Cowgirls had six points each for OSU. In the first stanza, OSU shot just 25.7 percent (9-of-35) from the field.

A pair of buckets from Liz Donohoe and a transition layup from Kaylee Jensen gave Oklahoma State a 29-27 lead with 18 minutes remaining in the second half.

Trailing by two, McDonald connected on her third triple to give WVU the go-ahead 39-38 lead. Later in the stanza, consecutive triples from Stepney and Holmes gave WVU their largest lead of the game, 51-42.

WVU pushed its lead to 15 with 41 seconds left, capping a 21-4 run by the Mountaineers. The win gave West Virginia its first Big 12 win of the season. LaShawn Jones finished with a first-high 12 points for the Cowgirls, as Liz Donohoe followed with 11.

Recap

West Virginia maintained a lead early in the contest, but Kansas' hot second half shooting lifted the Jayhawks to a 65-59 win on Saturday afternoon inside Allen Fieldhouse.

WVU (12-7, 2-5 Big 12) led by as many as 10 points in the first half and held a 32-28 advantage at the midway point. However, KU came firing in the second half. The Jayhawks (11-9, 2-5 Big 12) used its size inside and shot 52.4 percent (11-of-21) in the final frame. The Mountaineers cut the game to five with less than five minutes remaining, but were unable to further break into the deficit.

Three Mountaineers reached double figures as Bria Holmes paced WVU with a team-high 16 points. Jessica Morton and Averee Fields each had 10 points. Fields narrowly missed a double-double with a team-high nine rebounds.

WVU made 2 out of their last 14 field goal attempts in the game, finishing with a 38.1 field goal percentage (24-of-63). Kansas completed the contest making 24-of-55 for 43.6 percent. KU dominated the boards, 44-37, with 20 of those rebounds coming from center Chelsea Gardner.

A jumper and triple from Bre McDonald and Holmes gave WVU a 5-0 start. But, Kansas used a strong run of their own, taking a 7-5 lead with 16:06 left in the opening frame. McDonald finished with nine points and six rebounds.

Off the heels of eight straight points, KU took an 11-10 lead. However, West Virginia responded with a 7-0 run to take a 17-11 edge under 12 minutes remaining.

The Mountaineers stretched their lead to nine with 4:46 remaining, thanks to five consecutive points from redshirt freshman Teana Muldrow. However, a 10-6 run by Kansas to close the half made it a 32-28 game.

In the first half, WVU shot 43.3 percent (13-of-30) as Kansas made 36.4 percent (12-of-33). Hot from the three-point line, WVU hit 4-of-6 in the first half. KU controlled the rebound column, 23-to-17, and scored second chance points 10-3. Gardner led all scorers with 11 points, while Holmes had nine for WVU.

West Virginia opened the second half to a 38-32 lead. However, a six-point run by Kansas helped the Jayhawks even things up.

Asia Boyd's two consecutive baskets helped KU take a 46-44 edge with 10 minutes remaining. Lanay Montgomery was limited in playing time in the second half due to collecting four quick fouls. That departure helped Kansas work inside and outscored WVU in the paint 34-26 for the contest.

Another 11-6 run by the Jayhawks, coupled by two triples, helped Kansas take their largest lead in the contest with seven minutes remaining.

Recap

The West Virginia University women's basketball team withstood a late comeback attempt from TCU to collect a 76-71 win over the Horned Frogs at the WVU Coliseum on Wednesday evening.

The Mountaineers (14-8, 4-6 Big 12) led by as many as 15 in the second half. Foul trouble limited WVU's two point guards, Linda Stepney and Jessica Morton, down the stretch. Capitalizing on WVU's foul troubles, TCU (13-8, 5-5 Big 12) cut the deficit to four points with 4:27 remaining. WVU pushed the game back to nine with over a minute to go and held on for its third consecutive victory at home.

Bria Holmes paced the Mountaineers with 30 points. She knocked down nine field goals and went 11-of-13 from the charity stripe. The 30-point game was the fourth for Holmes in her career and the third this season.

Senior Averee Fields registered her second consecutive double-double, scoring 13 points and grabbing 10 boards. Fields also had two steals and two assists. Bre McDonald matched her career-high of 19, while grabbing four rebounds and collecting three steals.

Overall, WVU made 27-of-64 field goals for 42.2 percent. The Mountaineers connected on 20-of-26 (76.9%) at the free throw line. TCU shot 40 percent (26-of-65) from the field and hit 82.4 percent (14-of-17) of its free throw attempts. WVU pounded the boards with 52 rebounds on the night, compared to just 30 for the Horned Frogs. The 28 WVU offensive rebounds were the most for the Mountaineers since pulling in 30 against North Carolina Central on Nov. 20, 2011.

It was a strong start for the Mountaineers, as they opened the game to an eight-point advantage. WVU pushed its lead to 13, but the Horned Frogs came firing back. A bucket by Jada Butts cut it to nine with five minutes left in the opening half. Jessica Morton's trey under the one-minute mark gave WVU its largest lead of 14.

The Mountaineers' held its largest lead in a Big 12 game this season, 39-27. Offensively in the first half, WVU connected on 16 out of 37 field goals. The Mountaineers owned a 30-14 rebounding advantage. Holmes led all players with 17 points and six rebounds. At the break, center Klara Bradshaw led the Horned Frogs with nine.

Shot possessions were in limited supply in the second half, as TCU fired up 13 attempts compared to just four from WVU in the first six minutes. Jumpers from Zahna Medley and Veja Hamilton each cut TCU's deficit to eight ones with under 14 minutes remaining. Both Medley and Ventress finished with a team-high 14 points for TCU.

Seven consecutive points from McDonald helped WVU stretch its lead to 15 at the 9:59 mark.

A triple from Natalie Ventress and a layup by Medley put the game within four, 64-60, with just 4:26 left. Back-to-back buckets from McDonald and Holmes rest the game back to eight points. Just three minutes later, McDonald connected on two free throws make it a nine-point contest. Despite strong final attempts from TCU, the Mountaineers held on for their fourth win in league play.

Recap

The West Virginia University women's basketball team encountered a tough shooting night in a 61-43 loss to Iowa State on Saturday at the Hilton Coliseum.

A back-and-forth affair saw nine lead changes in the first half as both teams vied to take the lead. West Virginia (14-9, 4-7 Big 12) held a 15-12 edge midway through the opening stanza. Iowa State (15-7, 6-5 Big 12) went on an eight-point run to take a lead the Cyclones would never relinquish. WVU came back to cut the score to one, 21-20, late in the first half. However, a strong 11-0 run that occurred in both halves helped ISU secure its sixth league victory.

Jessica Morton led West Virginia with 14 points. Bria Holmes made 5-of-7 field goals and finished the night with 13 points. Holmes grabbed six boards and handed out two assists in the loss.

West Virginia was held to a season-lows in points (43) and field goal percentage (29.3). The Mountaineers went 17-of-58 from the field (29.3 percent) and hit just four out of 15 triples for 23.5 percent. Iowa State completed the evening with a 39.3 shooting percentage (18-of-46) and made eight three-pointers in the game. WVU narrowly won the rebound column, 39-38, and outscored ISU 19-12 on turnovers. WVU sophomore Lanay Montgomery finished with a game-high 11 rebounds.

The first half saw nine lead changes, as both teams went back-and-forth. WVU held a 15-12 lead thanks to a bucket from Morton. However, Iowa State would proceed on an eight-point run to take a 20-15 lead. Morton's triple at 1:47 ended a six-minute field goal drought and cut the contest to one.

Iowa State closed out the half with four points to take a 25-20 lead into the locker room. WVU shot just 24.1 percent (7-of-29), while ISU knocked down 41.7 percent (10-of-24). WVU scored 12 points off 10 ISU turnovers. Holmes led WVU with six points, while Fallon Ellis tied a career-high with 11 points.

Iowa State opened the second half on an 11-0 run. The Cyclones continued to capitalize on West Virginia's poor shooting night, as the Mountaineers were held scoreless for the first six-plus minutes to open the half.

The Mountaineers gradually pulled back in the second half and cut the deficit to 14. However, Iowa State was able to push their advantage back to 20 with three minutes remaining. Guard Nikki Moody led ISU with 14 points. Seanna Johnson registered a double-double with 10 points and 11 rebounds for the Cyclones.

Recap

West Virginia women's basketball was unable to find a rhythm in a 79-51 loss to No. 3-ranked Baylor on Sunday afternoon at the Ferrell Center.

The Lady Bears (24-1, 13-0 Big 12) opened the contest on a 15-2 run. WVU (15-10, 5-8) pulled within single digits halfway through the first half, but BU would take a 19-point lead at halftime. West Virginia's offense started off slow in the second half and Baylor capitalized to pick up its 23rd consecutive win.

Bria Holmes reached double figures for the 27th time in her last 28 games with 15 points on Sunday. Redshirt freshman Teana Muldrov tallied double-figures for the seventh time this season, scoring a team-high 16 points. Linda Stepney had a team-best five assists in the loss.

Overall, WVU shot 31.0 percent (18-of-58) from the field as Baylor connected on 53.8 percent (35-of-65). The Lady Bears dominated inside, 50-21, holding WVU to its lowest rebound total since 2011.

Baylor jumped out early, making 7-of-9 buckets and opening a 15-2 advantage. Jessica Morton's jumper at 10:37 cut the game to single digits.

The Lady Bears continued their strong offensive performance, using a 19-6 run to take a commanding lead. Baylor held a 47-28 advantage at the break, becoming the first opponent to score 47 points on WVU in the first half this season.

WVU shot just 38.2 percent (13-of-34) from the field, while Baylor knocked down 60 percent (21-of-35). BU won the rebound margin, 28-7. Holmes paced West Virginia with eight points, while Davis and Cohen had eight for Baylor.

A slow second half helped the Lady Bears push the game to 34 in the second half. West Virginia fought back to cut the game to 20 midway through. Nina Davis lead Baylor with 22 points, while Niya Johnson had 13 of BU's 30 assists.

Recap

The West Virginia University women's basketball team was unable to overcome a low-scoring first half in a 52-46 loss to Oklahoma State on Wednesday evening at the WVU Coliseum.

The Mountaineers (15-11, 5-9 Big 12) were held to just 13 points in the opening frame, as Oklahoma State (17-8, 7-7) took a 10-point lead at halftime. The 13 points were the fewest ever in a half for West Virginia inside the Coliseum.

Despite shooting a much-improved 44 percent (11-of-25) in the second half, West Virginia could pull within six. The loss snapped a four-game home win streak for West Virginia and gave the Cowgirls their fourth consecutive win.

Limited much of the first half due to foul trouble, Bria Holmes paced West Virginia with 12 points. With her 12 on Wednesday, it marked the 18th time a WVU player had reached 500 or more points in a season. Avere Fields reached double-digits with 10, while she snatched a team-best four steals. Lanay Montgomery inked seven blocks in the game, moving her season total to 97.

Offensively, WVU finished shooting 35.4 percent from the field (17-of-49) compared to OSU's 40.7 percent (22-of-54). The Mountaineers handed out a season-low four assists, as Oklahoma State distributed out 18. The Cowgirls won the rebound column, 39-31.

A slow offensive output hampered the Mountaineers in the first half, partly due to the absence of their leading scorer Holmes. The junior fouled twice in the first four minutes, sidelining her for the remainder of the half.

WVU was limited to just 13 points in the opening frame. With 10:40 on the clock, WVU held a 7-6 edge. Oklahoma State used a 17-6 run down the stretch to take a 10-point lead into the locker room. West Virginia shot just 26.1 percent (6-of-23) from the field, while OSU knocked down 37.9 percent (11-of-29). McDonald led WVU with six points, while Brittney Martin had 11 of the Cowgirls' 23 points.

In the second half, Oklahoma State maintained a safe distance keeping at least a seven-point lead most of the period. However, the Mountaineers cut it to six on four occasions, including with 46 seconds remaining. WVU shot considerably better, knocking down 44 percent (11-of-25) in the second half and outscoring the Cowgirls 33-29.

Martin paced Oklahoma State with 24 points and nine rebounds. Cowgirls' center LaShawn Jones scored 18 and pulled in 11 boards for a double-double.

Recap

Junior guard Bria Holmes paced West Virginia University women's basketball with 24 points in the Mountaineers' 73-63 loss at TCU on Tuesday evening inside the University Recreation Center.

The two squads remained close in the first eight minutes of the first half before TCU (16-11, 8-8 Big 12) used a 12-0 run to maintain a double-digit lead at the break. WVU (16-12, 6-10) cut the game to five points in the second half before another 12-4 Horned Frogs run helped the squad clinch their 13th victory at home.

Holmes, an All-America candidate, finished the night with 24 points and four steals. Her 31 field goal attempts broke a previous school record set by Cathy Parson in 1981. The attempts tied Jaynetta Saunders for ninth-most in Big 12 history.

Teana Muldraw and Bre McDonald also reached double-figures with 11 points each. For the second consecutive game, Muldraw drained a team-best three triples. Avereve Fields led the Mountaineers with seven rebounds.

Linda Stepney moved up in the record book with her team-leading five assists. Her 412 assists at WVU are now 10th all-time. Tuesday also marked Stepney's 121st career start, tying Ashley Powell ('09) for the third-most by a Mountaineer.

For the game, TCU shot 48 percent (24-of-50) from the field. WVU was limited to 32.5 percent shooting (25-of-77) for the contest. The Mountaineers forced 17 TCU turnovers and turned those into 19 points. The Horned Frogs narrowly won the rebound column, 41-39, but WVU outmanned TCU 20-to-8 in offensive boards.

Both teams kept it close early in the contest. Stepney exited early in the first half due to a pair of quick fouls. TCU stretched its lead to seven, 19-12, after a triple from Natalie Ventress.

The Horned Frogs stretched their run to 12-0 before Bria Holmes scored a layup to snap the Mountaineers' six-minute scoring skid. WVU cut the game to single digits late, but TCU used a 6-2 run to hold a 39-27 halftime lead.

Offensively, WVU was held to 29.7 percent (11-of-37), while TCU connected on 52 percent (13-of-25). The Horned Frogs outrebounded West Virginia 22-17. Bria Holmes had 10 of WVU's 22 points, while Natalie Ventress had nine for the Horned Frogs.

With Stepney inserted back in the lineup, West Virginia came out firing and whittled the Horned Frogs' lead to 44-38 with under 16 minutes to play. A triple by Muldraw cut the game to five with 14 minutes left.

TCU pushed their lead to double-figures for good with a 12-4 run. West Virginia pulled within 13 under five minutes to play, but couldn't crack the double-digit lead. Zahna Medley led TCU with 19 points, following by Ventress with 15.

Recap

The West Virginia University women's basketball team rallied from a 14-point hole in the second half to knock off No. 24-ranked Texas, 76-69, in overtime on Sunday afternoon at the WVU Coliseum.

There were plenty of runs by both teams, but Texas (19-9, 8-9 Big 12) held strong most of regulation. Determined not to lose on Senior Day, veteran Avereve Fields' jumper with six minutes remaining cut the Mountaineers' deficit to 10 points. WVU (17-12, 7-10) went on a 15-4 run from that point, which culminated on a Fields jumper that tied the game, 61-61, with 14 seconds remaining.

In overtime, three-pointers from Fields and Bria Holmes helped West Virginia stretch its lead to five. Texas cut the lead to three after a Brooke McCarthy jumper with 1:22 remaining, but WVU connected on 7-of-8 free throws to seal its 14th win at home this season. It was the first overtime game for West Virginia since defeating Texas, 56-49, on Jan. 12, 2014 in Morgantown. Sunday's attendance of 4,303 was the largest of the season and the 16th largest at the WVU Coliseum.

Fields and Holmes both matched game-highs with 19 points. Bre McDonald (13) and Linda Stepney also contributed with double figures. McDonald and Holmes each had eight boards in the victory, while Stepney distributed a game-best seven assists.

Overall, West Virginia finished shooting 39.1 percent (25-of-64) from the field. Texas connected slightly better at 43.9 percent (25-of-57). From the charity stripe, the Mountaineers made 21-of-24 for 87.5 percent. On the defensive end, WVU turned 17 Longhorn turnovers into 20 points.

Both teams traded buckets early on before Texas capitalized on a six-minute WVU scoring drought and took a 16-7 lead. In the final 10 minutes of the half, West Virginia used a 9-2 lead to cut their double-figure deficit. Crystal Leary's two free throw makes cut the game to 24-23. However a Longhorn 9-2 run gave UT a 33-25 halftime lead.

In the opening half, UT made 12-of-24 from the field for 50 percent while keeping WVU at 32 percent (8-of-25). The Longhorns held a rebound advantage by six and outscored WVU 16-8 in the paint. Imani McGee-Stafford had a game-high 12 points at the break, while Holmes and Muldraw each had six points.

Stepney hit a pair of layups with 12 minutes remaining to cut the game to five, but Texas again was able to push to a double-digit lead. The Longhorns held a 14-point edge, 52-38, with under nine minutes remaining in the contest.

Fields found a triple with six minutes left to cut the game to 10. From there, WVU went on a 15-4 run. Fields' jumper with 14 seconds left tied the game, 61-61, sending it to the Mountaineers' first overtime contest this season.

Triples from Holmes and Fields helped WVU jump out to a five-point edge in overtime, never relinquishing the lead. West Virginia hit 7-of-8 from the charity stripe to win the game and snapping Texas' four-game winning streak. McGee-Stafford finished with a double-double scoring 19 points and grabbing 12 boards for the Longhorns.

Recap

The West Virginia University women's basketball team overcame a sluggish first half to knock off Hampton 57-39 on Tuesday evening to advance to the third round of the Women's National Invitation Tournament (WNIT).

A low-scoring first half gave WVU a 22-15 edge at the break. The Mountaineers (20-14) outscored the Lady Pirates (19-13) 15-7 in the final five minutes of the second half to reach the 20-win plateau for the ninth time under coach Mike Carey.

WVU advances to the WNIT third round for the second time in program history. The Mountaineers will face a rematch with Duquesne on Thursday, March 26 in a 7 p.m. tilt. In the previous meeting on December 10, WVU won 79-60.

Three Mountaineers tallied double-figures, as Avere'e Fields paced the way with 16 points and seven rebounds. Linda Stepney had 14 points, while Bria Holmes finished with 11. Lanay Montgomery, a native of Pittsburgh, snatched 10 boards for her 10th double-figure rebound game of the year.

Despite only hitting 36 percent of its shots in the first half, WVU finished shooting at a 40.4 percent clip (19-of-47). Hampton was held to 26.4 percent (14-of-53) shooting. WVU dominated inside the paint, outscoring HU 22-16. Also, West Virginia slightly edged Hampton in rebounds, 40-37.

The first half started slow as West Virginia opened out to a four-point lead. The Lady Pirates pushed back and held a 10-9 lead with 11:55 left in the first half. The Pirates jumped out to a two-point edge under the eight minute mark.

West Virginia closed out the half on an 11-2 run to take a 21-15 lead at the break. The Mountaineers made 9-of-25 for 36 percent, while Hampton was limited to 7-of-33 for 21.2 percent. Hampton won the rebound column 25-20. HU's Malia Tate-DeFreitas led all scorers with seven points, while Holmes had six for WVU.

Holmes' made a three-pointer at the 17:50 mark extended West Virginia's lead to 27-17. Tate-DeFreitas' jumper cut the game to six. WVU pushed the lead back double-figures, but Hampton continued to push the game to under double-digits with eight minutes remaining. Defrietas finished with a game-high 21 points for Hampton.

A layup by Teana Muldrov with 5:30 remaining in the game pushed WVU's lead back to 10. From there, the Mountaineers went on a 15-7 run to pick up their 16th win inside the Coliseum this season.

Recap

The West Virginia University women's basketball team used an all-around effort in a 60-39 victory over Duquesne Thursday evening at the WVU Coliseum to advance to the WNIT quarterfinal round.

West Virginia (21-14) jumped out early to a 10-4 advantage and held a 14-point lead at halftime. Duquesne (23-11) cut the deficit to eight early in the second half, but the Mountaineers used another extended offensive spurt to take a double-digit lead they would never relinquish. WVU tied a school record with its 17th home victory of the season, matching the 2009-10 squad that went a perfect 17-0 at the Coliseum.

West Virginia hosts Villanova in the WNIT round of eight on Sunday, March 29, at 2 p.m. inside the WVU Coliseum.

Three WVU players tallied double-figures. Senior Avere'e Fields led the way with her seventh double-double this season, scoring a game-high 19 points and pulling in 11 rebounds. Bria Holmes reached double-figures for the 34th time this season with 17 points. Holmes has 663 points this season, tying Meg Bulger for the fourth-most points in a single-season at WVU.

Freshman Teana Muldrov added 15 points in the win. Linda Stepney had a game-best seven assists in the victory. Overall, WVU shot 34.8 percent (23-of-66) from the field. Duquesne was held to 27.5 percent shooting (14-of-51). The Mountaineers out-rebounded the Dukes, 49-38. In the assists column, WVU dished out 16 compared to seven for Duquesne. WVU also won the turnover battle, converting 14 Dukes turnovers into 17 points.

The Mountaineers jumped out to a 10-4 edge in the first six minutes of the game. Holmes' three-pointer at 12:03 put WVU's edge to nine. A layup from Amadea Szamosi cut Duquesne's deficit to eight with four minutes remaining. However, a 6-0 Mountaineer run to close the half gave WVU a 35-21 halftime edge.

Offensively, WVU connected on 42.9 percent from the field (15-of-35) compared to Duquesne's 29.6 percent (8-of-27). The Mountaineers forced seven turnovers and covered those into seven points. Holmes led WVU with 12 points, while Belma Nurkic and April Robinson each had five for the Dukes. Robinson would finish the game with 14 for Duquesne.

Duquesne's Robinson hit a triple and scored a bucket to start the second half. The Mountaineers used a 10-2 run to push their lead to 19 with 12 minutes remaining. Fields jumper at 11:20 pushed West Virginia's edge to 52-32 with 11:02 on the clock. Duquesne used an 8-1 run to cut the lead to 15, but it wasn't enough as WVU maintained a steady double-figure lead in the second half.

Recap

For the second consecutive game, the West Virginia University women's basketball team rallied from a deficit in the final minute of regulation to force overtime and prevail 66-58 over Temple at the WVU Coliseum on Wednesday to advance to the WNIT Championship for the second time in program history.

The Mountaineers (23-14) trailed by two with a little over a minute remaining in regulation. After a Crystal Leary steal, Bria Holmes connected on a pair of free throws with 12 seconds left to send the game to overtime.

Holmes once again found the net with a jumper at 4:34 in Overtime. Despite a valiant Temple effort, the Mountaineers outscored the Owls 13-5 in overtime to advance to the WNIT Championship game for the first time since 2005.

Holmes tallied a game-high 22 points in the victory. Senior Avere'e Fields belted out 20 points, grabbed eight rebounds and dished out three assists.

Sophomore center Lanay Montgomery put together a historic performance with 24 rebounds, eight blocks and four points. Montgomery's 24 blocks were just two shy of a WNIT record. Her 24 rebound and eight block combination had never happened before at West Virginia.

Overall, there were 16 lead changes and seven ties in Wednesday's thriller. West Virginia netted 58 rebounds and blocked 14 shots. The Mountaineers dominated the paint, outscoring the Owls 26-18. WVU also won the second chance points column, 14-7. WVU shot 37.5 percent (22-of-64) for the game and held TU to 29.6 percent shooting (21-of-71). TU was limited to just 1-of-6 shooting in the overtime period.

There were 11 lead changes in the opening half. West Virginia opened up to a four-point lead in the first three minutes, but Temple closed out the first half on a 7-0 run to take a 31-26 halftime lead.

WVU was limited to 32.4 percent (11-of-34) shooting, while TU knocked down 34.4 percent (11-of-32). The Owls made five triples compared to WVU's one. The Mountaineers won the rebound edge, 27-21, in the opening half. Holmes had 12 points, while Montgomery pulled in 14 rebounds to lead WVU. Tyonna Williams paced TU with seven points.

The Owls pushed their lead to eight in the first two minutes of the second half. However, WVU went on a 10-2 spur to tie the game with 11:20 remaining. Fields' mid-range jumper at 7:16 put the Mountaineers up, 44-42, for the first time since 6:32 of the first half.

A three-pointer by Williams put the Owls up 51-49 with 2:08 remaining. Williams found a jumper a minute later to extend Temple's lead to three. She finished with a team-high 15 points for Temple. Linda Stepney and Holmes connected on three free throws to send the game in overtime.

Recap

The West Virginia University women's basketball team fell in heartbreaking fashion with a 62-60 loss to UCLA in the Women's National Invitation Tournament (WNIT) Championship on Saturday in front of 8,403 fans at the Charleston Civic Center.

WVU (23-15) led by six with seven minutes remaining. However, UCLA (19-18) fought back to tie the game with a Kari Korver three-pointer with 4:19 remaining. On the next offensive possession, Jordin Canada nailed a layup that would up the Bruins up for good.

The Mountaineers cut the game to one with a Linda Stepney layup at the 44 second mark. Nearly 25 seconds later, UCLA stretched their lead to five with two Canada free throws. Stepney connected on a triple with 12 seconds left, but the Mountaineers were out of timeouts and unable to foul as the Bruins collected their first WNIT title.

Three Mountaineers scored in double-figures as senior Avere'e Fields finished with a team-high 17 points. Bria Holmes scored 14, dished out six assists and collected five rebounds. Linda Stepney had 10 points, while senior Crystal of followed with eight rebounds.

Fields and Holmes were named to the WNIT All-Tournament team. Fields averaged 17.7 points and 8.2 rebounds during the six-game tournament. Holmes followed with 16.8 points and 21 assists. UCLA's Canada was tabbed tournament MVP after boasting a game-high 31 points.

Overall there were 12 ties and 10 lead changes during the contest. The Mountaineers finished shooting 32.8 percent (19-of-58) from the field, while the Bruins connected on 38.5 percent (20-of-52). UCLA won the points off turnover battle 17-13 and outscored WVU 26-20 in the paint.

West Virginia pushed its lead to six in the first half, but UCLA scored a layup in the final seconds to take a 30-28 halftime edge. Both teams shot 32 percent in the opening half with WVU making 9-of-28 and UCLA connecting on 10-of-31. The Mountaineers outscored UCLA 12-6 in second chance point opportunities. Fields had eight points and UCLA's Canada paced UCLA with 14.

Both teams tied each other seven times in the first eight minutes of the second half. WVU pushed its lead to six with a Holmes layup at 7:22. From that point, UCLA tied the game again with four minutes left. Canada's layup at 3:45 helped the Bruins keep a lead they would never give up.

West Virginia finished the year at 23-15 and reached the WNIT Championship for the second time in 10 years. WVU set school records in games played (38), offensive rebounds (583) and blocks (242). Holmes, who garnered WBCA All-America Honorable Mention, finished averaging 18.8 points and 4.4 rebounds. Her 719 points is second all-time in a single-season at WVU. Fields had an average of 13.8 points and six rebounds to close out her senior season. Saturday also marked the end of remarkable careers by Stepney (242 points and 175 assists this season) and Leary (192 points and 145 rebounds).
